Good morning, everyone. Welcome to Daxi Old Street. I'm Nick, your guide today. It's my honour to be here and introduce Daxi Old Street to you. It is a famous tourist spot in Taoyuan. Your trip to Taoyuan will not be complete without it.

We are now at the entrance of the street. If you are interested in its past, get into the first house on the left. You can not only see pictures but also watch videos about this town, which show how Daxi had become an important trading post for Chinese settlers in the 19th century.

Another interesting store is the fifth one on the right. There you can find traditional Taiwanese toys, such as bamboo guns and diabolos. Many parents take their kids to that house first when they go to this street. Also, many travellers love the fourth house on the right. There, travellers could enjoy the over-100-year-old songs. Their styles, ways of singing, and even languages are totally different. Moreover, the first three houses on the same side sell amazing Daxi dried tofu. Other must-tries in the three houses are tofu puddings and rice dumplings.

As for my favorite house, it is at the end on the left. It is named Daxi Tea Factory. There is also a tea reading room. You can enjoy tea and refreshments here, as well as buy your favorite tea leaves and tea bags for yourself or as a gift for others. OK. That's the end of my introduction. Go grab some delicious food or take good pictures. Have a nice trip!
